PricewaterhouseCoopers

With more than 146,000 partners and staff in 149 countries, PwC is the largest global network of professional services firms – offering a wide range of assurance, tax, and advisory services to many of the world's largest and most prestigious companies. PwC people have access to unparalleled knowledge, training, and technical resources around the world.

PwC's Northern California and Southern California Offices

There is no better place for an aspiring student to begin their career in finance and accounting. For example, PwC's office in downtown Los Angeles is one of the Firm's largest offices, with over 1,200 partners and staff serving one of the most dynamic economies in the U.S. PwC's Los Angeles office is a hub of international business, with strong connections to Latin American and Pacific Rim markets and clients.

PwC's Assurance Practice

The role that accountants play in protecting the capital markets system has never been more important or visible than today. In fulfilling that role, PwC's Assurance practice works to ensure that the financial information its clients report to the investing public and other stakeholders is clear and reliable. PwC's Assurance practice involves working with clients that range from high potential startups to cutting edge private companies to the global Fortune 1000. PwC's Assurance teams go inside companies, get to know those businesses - and then ask questions, test assumptions, and provide assurance that the company is reporting information that investors and others can rely on. Every assignment is a chance to learn, to grow and to understand how businesses operate from the top down and inside out.

PwC's External Audit and Related Services Practice

PwC's audit practice provides independent assurance to clients on the financial performance of their businesses and the internal control that govern their financial information. PwC's audit teams ask the tough questions and tackle the tough issues to produce financial statements that investors and the investing community can trust. Services provided include core financial statement and internal control audits, as well as services such as: benefit plan audits, business and performance reporting, and social, environmental, and other compliance reviews.

PwC's Tax Practice

At PwC Tax, interns begin building their career with broad-based client experiences that will help lay the foundation to become a credentialed professional. Interns work with some of the world's largest organizations, serving public and private companies from all sectors, including financial services, technology, consumer products, pharmaceuticals, and entertainment and media.
